

COMPONENTS

- ◆ 60 Cards
9 Asset & 1 Information card for each Billionaire
- ◆ 1 Rulesheet

GAME OBJECTIVE

BECOME THE RICHEST BILLIONAIRE ALIVE! BLUFF YOUR WAY TO KEEP YOUR ASSETS AND OUTWIT YOUR OPPONENT TO BANKRUPT THEM WHILE YOU'RE AHEAD.

SETUP

- ◆ Each player pick a Billionaire deck (all 10 cards in one color) and put the Information card in front of them, holding the rest 9 cards in their hands.
- ◆ The person who had the most money in their wallet goes first, or determine the first player in any way agreed.

GAMEPLAY

- ◆ An active player must play an Asset card from their hand face-down to the table, claiming to be the richest Billionaire with the highest card on the table.
- ◆ If player(s) has a face-down Asset card, he/she may approve or challenge the active player. Otherwise, the turn passes clockwise and the next player on the left become the active player.
- ◆ Approve/Challenge is done by performing agreed gestures simultaneously, such as thumbs up or thumbs down.

Approve (Thumb Up)

if you believe the active player played a higher card than yours, and therefore did not wish to challenge him/her. If all other players approves unanimously, the turn pass clockwise and the next player become the active player.

Challenge (Thumb Down)

if you don't believe the active player played a higher card than yours, and therefore wish to call his/her bluff. More than one player might challenge the active player simultaneously.

EXAMPLE

Player A plays an Asset card from his hand face-down, claiming to be the richest Billionaire with the highest card on the table.

Player B then plays his card and counter the claim; he IS the richest Billionaire Player A doesn't think so, therefore he Challenge B.

The two players then reveal their cards to see whose Asset card's value is higher.

and Player with higher card's value win the Challenge

As winning prize, Player A takes a random card from B's hand and his loser card (number 4), placing them face up on his Bonus pile

However, if there are more than one Challenger, the losing card (number 4) is not taken

CHALLENGE

When a challenge occurs, all challengers flip over their last played Asset cards to compare the value individually with the active player who then will also flip their card.

There are two outcomes possible:

- ◆ If the active player's card has the same value or lower than the Challenger's card, hence breaking the rule, the Challenger wins.
- ◆ If the active player's card is higher than the challenger's card, hence proving his claim, the active player wins against that challenger

The active player might have mixed results in a challenge, winning against one challenger, but losing to another, which is completely normal..

The winner of a challenge then take a random card from the loser's hand, placing it face-up on a separate Bonus pile as a compensation that will be scored at the end of the game as bonus Points. Additionally, if there is only one challenger, the winner of the challenge also take the loser's revealed card, placing it face-up on the Bonus pile.

After a Challenge had completely resolved, discard all flipped-over cards to their own separate Discard pile and the play then passes to the next player on the left of the Target player.

END GAME & SCORING

- ◆ When an active player plays the last card from their hand, the game immediately ends and scoring begins.
- ◆ All Asset cards still held in hands scores as many Points as their listed face-value. Plus, count all the Coin symbols from other player's cards that you keep in your Bonus pile as bonus Points.
- ◆ The player with the biggest Points is the winner and become the new Bluffing Billionaire.

In case of a tie, the player with more sum of Coin symbols wins. In case of further tie, all tied players share the victory or play again to determine the real winner!
